The attached sketches of the Amt. VI S Training School at Friedenthal have been sent to me by B.I.C. The first sketch was drawn by NEBEL and the second is a copy of his sketch with explanations made by Miss Mayor. I also attach copy of miscellaneous notes on this establishment received from the same source.

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES

1. When NEBEL was there the training was purely military, and there were no other civilians there at (except the secretaries as mentioned below). The training consisted of shooting, manoeuvres etc.

2. The only civilians were three secretaries:

- (a) Marguerite KOPF-HEISE, SKORZENY's secretary. Age about 30. Not pretty. Had a great influence over SKORZENY. Had been a typist in the German Embassy in Sofia.
- (b) Annemarie KRUGER, BESEKOW's secretary. She was in Belgium with him.
- (c) Liselotte KRUGER, sister of above. Worked for other officers.

3. The main building, the Schloss itself, was camouflaged.

4. The shooting hall, which was unfinished when NEBEL was there, was extremely up to date. It contained moving targets thrown on a cinema screen.

5. In theory there were four companies at the school: 1, 2 and 3 and Stabs. When NEBEL was there only 1 and Stabs existed.

6. There were two guards permanently on guard at the main gate, and also in the towers at the corners of the walls.

7. Prisoners from the Concentration Camp did the menial work in the barracks and the grounds.

8. Ordinary members of the school were not allowed into the VI/F enclosure.
